DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-9 and 22-26, drawn to a method for joining article components, classified in class 131, subclass 61.1.
- II. Claims 10-20 and 27-32, drawn to a tipping apparatus, classified in class 131, subclass 88.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions (I) and (II) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus could be used to make a materially different product such as a liquid filter.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Should Applicant elect the claims identified above as belonging to group I, drawn to a method for joining article components, Applicant is further notified that this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

1) A method of joining article components by collectively feeding articles of a first and second group to a first tipping apparatus then sequential feeding said first and second group to a second tipping apparatus.

2) A method of joining article components by alternately conveying a member of a first group to a first tipping apparatus followed by conveyance of a second group article to said first tipping apparatus.

The species are independent or distinct because each of the identified method differs in manner of execution to such an extent as to render each a non-obvious variant of the other for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

Should Applicant elect the claims identified above as belonging to group II, drawn to a tipping apparatus, Applicant is further notified that this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

1) A tipping apparatus comprising first and second tipping apparatus arranged one behind the other

2) A tipping apparatus with first and second tipping apparatus arranged to alternately convey articles.

The species are independent or distinct because they differ in detail of construction and mode of operation to an extent as to render each a non-obvious variant over the other.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

A telephone call was made to Robert Mueller on February 28, 2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 1731

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jason L. Lazorcik whose telephone number is (571) 272-2217. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday 8:30 am to 5:00pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Steven Griffin can be reached on (571) 272-1189. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
